psykosyntesens vision och själ som den en gång föreslagits av Roberto Assagioli; en vision som idag visar sig vara otroligt aktuell och från vilken vi kan dra värdefulla ledtrådar för att kunna orientera oss i denna utmanande tid

Below is a quote from the Psychosynthesis conference in Taormina 2016 where Luce Ramorino and Mike Malagrecia stressed the importance of a joint meditation based on Assagiolis manuscript during upcoming World Days of Psychosynthesis.

REFLECTIONS ON THE MESSAGE AND NATURE OF PSYCHO-SYNTHESIS IN TIMES OF THE PANDEMIC

The goal of The World day of Psychosynthesis is to encourage a greater connection and a true mutual recognition among all centers, groups and individuals in the world that will resonate with the message and nature of Psychosynthesis. During this meeting we will reflect and meditate together on the guidelines that can inspire us to foster this process of synthesis. We will also reflect on the vision and spirit of psychosynthesis as proposed by Roberto Assagioli: a vision that today reveals its incredible and surprising topicality and from which we can draw precious indications to orient ourselves in these challenging pandemic times.

REFLEKTIONER KRING PSYKOSYNTESENS SJÄLFULLA BUDSKAP MITT I PANDEMIN

Målet med Världsdagen för Psykosyntes är att uppmantra till större samhörighet och ömsesidigt erkännande av alla centra, grupper och enskilda individer som vill vara i samklang med psykosyntesens själfulla budskap. Under detta möte kommer vi att reflektera och meditera tillsammans kring de riktlinjer som kan främja just denna process. Vi kommer också att reflektera över

"During the Taormina Conference in June 2016 (Psychosynthesis for the Future) we put forward the idea of establishing a World Day of Psychosynthesis to be celebrated by any person or group anywhere in the world on the 20th September, each year. We are also suggesting a meditation outline for use during that day. The aim is to create a network for linking energetically on different levels. Each of us can link to this network in the way you may think most appropriate for your context, individually or in a group, with the awareness that you are making your own contribution to a movement of convergence and unification, getting ready for a further convergence and unification in Humanity Itself, which will lead to the creation of a new world. "We invite all groups, centers and individuals that resonate with this idea to join us, in any way you find it constructive and helpful to disseminate the idea.

Many groups around the world will be holding a special meeting for the event, others are joining us by using the meditation outline printed in the attached card. The card displays an image from an Assagioli manuscript that has been the source of inspiration for this initiative. Please feel free to circulate it and spread the word to your coworkers, friends and contacts in your social media pages."
